We recommend you to spend the entire day at the castle Schönbrunn: visit for the public opened halls, within the "Grand tour with tone tour guide" you can see the well-known Bergzimmer; do a walk through the Labyrinth.

The castle Schönbrunn was always the summer residence of the imperial family: Kaiser Franz Josef (reign 1848 – 1916) was born here in year 1830, he lived simply like his soldiers and he spent the last years of his life in this castle.

2 years after his death, in the year 1918, castle ended under the management of the Republic, which was organised later and since then is the castle one of the most important attractions in Vienna, because of its beautiful position and magnificent architectural establishment.

On the occasion of the 150 anniversary of Empress Elisabeth and Kaiser Franz Josef Vienna opened in year 2004 museum in the imperial rooms at the Imperial Palace, to show the personal effects of empress and also the famous portraits of the beautiful empress. The exhibition shows especially the private life of Elisabeth, her rebellious spirit against the ceremonial Hof, her outbreak into the beauty cult, her obsession with thinness, her contributions in sports and her passion for poetry. The museum goes through all steps in her hectic life, from careless girlhood in Bayern to unexpected engagement with Austrian Kaiser and to her assassination in Geneva in the year 1898. This is based on the collection of objects, which are exposed for the first time, for example the reconstruction of the evening dress from the wedding eve, famous portraits, beauty books, jewellery, dressing gown, the parasol, fan and the hand gloves, the reconstruction of royal wagon and the outfit that she wore after the assassination.
